This may involve asking questions or requesting additional information.
 - Medical and Religious Exemption requests must be submitted in accordance with the Company's established procedures and applicable due dates.
 - Medical and Religious Exemptions are based on a determination of current public health and workplace conditions. As a result, Medical and Religious Exemptions are valid for one year only. Employees and Board members may be required to follow the exemption request process on an annual basis.
 - Those who request a Medical Exemption are responsible for working with their medical provider(s) to ensure the Medical Exemption Request form is completed fully which includes obtaining the provider's signature. Medical stamps are not acceptable.
- Employee and Board member requests for exemption will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis by CareFirst and/or CareFirst's third party-leave/disability vendor, to determine if the request can be granted provided it is reasonable and does not create an undue hardship for the Company. Medical or Religious Exemptions also must not pose a direct threat to the health or safety of others and/or to the individual.
 - You may be contacted by CareFirst's third-party leave/disability vendor if additional medical information is needed to evaluate your Medical Exemption request. - Employees whose Medical or Religious Exemption request is denied will be notified by CareFirst. CareFirst will communicate the decision to you along with the reason for the denial. You will then have 45 calendar days to become Fully Vaccinated and provide Proof of Compliance
